About this home

Colliers Supported Living is a welcoming service designed with independence, dignity, and comfort in mind. The service offers four self-contained flats, giving each person the privacy of their own home while receiving tailored support.

The environment is carefully designed to balance independence, safety, personal choice, and social connection, creating a calm and stable setting where people can build confidence, develop skills, and live life in a way that works for them.

Support services

The support team at Colliers brings experience across a wide range of needs, delivering consistent, compassionate and tailored support.

We support individuals with:

- Learning disabilities
- Autism
- Mental health needs
- Complex behaviours

Support may include developing daily living skills, emotional v support, managing tenancy and responsibilities, accessing healthcare and appointments, building routines and structure, and encouraging community access and inclusion.

Our focus is always on helping people to develop confidence, independence, and a strong sense of self.

What we offer

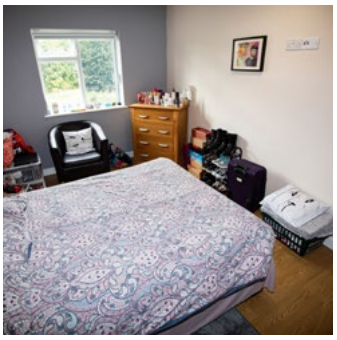

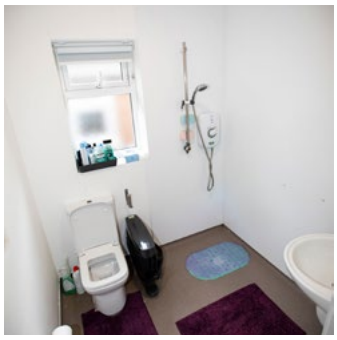

At Colliers Supported Living, we provide flexible, person-centred support that fits around each individual's goals and lifestyle. Each person benefits from their own private flat, including a kitchen, bathroom, and living space, alongside personalised support plans and access to safe, well-maintained accommodation.

Support is designed to adapt as needs and goals change, creating the right balance between guidance and independence so people can grow at their own pace. Like all Dignus services, our approach is built around individual preferences, strengths, and aspirations.
